

State of New Hampshire
Circuit Court
Administrative Order 2014 – 59 (Amended)

Family Division Complex Case Docket

Pursuant to RSA Chapter 490-F and Supreme Court Rule 54, and in the interest of responding to the needs of the public and promoting efficient use of Judicial Branch resources, there is hereby established a Family Division Complex Case Docket within the Family Division of the New Hampshire Circuit Court. The presiding judge of the Family Division Complex Case Docket shall have the authority to hear and decide all matters assigned to him by the Administrative Judge of the Circuit Court.

Cases may be referred for consideration of inclusion on the docket by any Circuit Court Family Division judge before whom the case is pending. Additionally, pursuant to RSA 490-F:2, the Administrative Judge of the Circuit Court may, in his sole discretion, reassign any pending matter to the Family Division Complex Case Docket.

Requests for referral by a judge of the Circuit Court may be made directly to the Administrative Judge. The reassignment of any case shall be in the sole discretion of the Administrative Judge after consultation with the current presiding judge and the presiding judge of the Family Division Complex Case Docket.

Pursuant to RSA 490-F: 6 I, The Honorable Robert J. Foley is hereby assigned to serve as presiding judge of the Family Division Complex Case Docket.

Hearings in any matter reassigned to that docket shall be conducted at the 7th Circuit Court – Family Division – Dover, located at 25 St. Thomas Street, Dover, New Hampshire. All written materials shall be submitted to the 7th Circuit – Family Division (Dover), unless otherwise ordered by the presiding judge.
